

The QiG group of Greatbatch Inc. is looking for a Quality Technician who will support inspection of incoming components and raw materials by inspecting product. This position will be responsible for measuring components using various inspection equipment such as gage pins, micrometers, tensile test machines, and tool scopes.

Additional duties include but are not limited to:

- Demonstrate an eagerness to work cross-functionally with Quality, Manufacturing, Materials and Operations to receive quality products

- Provide constructive feedback on the current inspection processes for improved efficiency

- Utilize the ERP system to perform transactions for materials

- Generate nonconforming material reports for non-acceptable product and notify the correct personnel

- Frequently work with receiving inspection technicians and the Quality supervisor

- Partner with engineering on nonconforming products

- Apply an understanding of and demonstrate why and how to measure components in a timely manner while persistently focusing on quality.

Qualifications:

Education/Experience: Associate's degree in Metrology or related technical field with 3-5 years relevant experience OR a high school graduate with 7-10 years relevant experience

Specialized Knowledge: Ability to collect measurement data in standard data forms. Product knowledge helpful.

Special Skills: Excellent organizational and communication skills – written and verbal

Apply online to www.greatbatch.com job #782. Located in Plymouth, MN. Attn: Ann M Reishus